ABOUT

Grey has worked in many roles of commercial real estate, including serving as developer, property investor, to commercial listing agent. Following his undergraduate studies at Ole Miss, Grey returned to Baton Rouge, working in business development and sales for a national internet retailer.

In 2011, he shifted gears and began his career in the commercial real estate industry, where he joined a local commercial firm in Baton Rouge that serviced the Louisiana Gulf Coast. Grey later moved to NAI Latter & Blum Commercial Real Estate, a move that grew his team into a statewide presence.

Grey's familiarity with leasing, development, and construction allows him to meet his clients with tenured advice and clear answers. January 2023, Grey seized the opportunity open his own real estate office and formed Hammett Group Real Estate. This has opened up his service to many repeat clients and longstanding relationships. From guiding potential buyers through investment deals and lease negotiations, Grey has a demonstrated history of skilled service. Grey and his team are looking forward to working both new and familiar contacts. With a family deeply rooted in real estate and a Baton Rouge native, it comes as no surprise that Grey has found his niche in the local market. Husband, father, and avid outdoorsman, Grey and his wife Elizabeth resides in Baton Rouge with their two boys.
