ABOUT

Providing a full range of commercial real estate services in Shreveport and Bossier City, Louisiana and the southern region since 1973, the U. L. Coleman Companies have grown to include over 150 associates and a strong regional service-oriented commercial real estate organization. We offer our national, regional, and local area clients and customers our expertise as a full service company in providing a wide range of services. Among these are apartments, office and retail lease space, industrial leases, commercial brokerage, buyer and tenant representation, property management, consulting, market research, and construction. Asset Management personnel continually compile data that affects commercial real estate: rent and occupancy trends, changes in market inventory of available space, sales of commercial buildings, and government programs affecting the real estate industry. This information is analyzed to assist the company and its clients in making intelligent business decisions. Linc Coleman, President of the U. L. Coleman Companies, has thirty years experience in commercial and investment real estate services, including complete development services, brokerage, leasing, consulting, financial, and commercial asset and property management. Under his direction, the U. L. Coleman Companies have successfully competed against large nationally recognized companies to develop and manage facilities for, among others, IBM and Federal Express Corporations. His management expertise is
