Leslie Falkins

ABOUT

Leslie Falkins is a U.S. Navy veteran and former educator who brings a warm, down-to-earth approach to real estate. With a passion for both residential and commercial properties, Leslie especially enjoys working with historic homes and revitalized spaces— helping clients see the potential in older buildings and guiding them through smart, rewarding transformations. Clients appreciate his calm presence, attention to detail, and ability to explain things clearly. Whether working with first-time buyers, seasoned investors, or builders, Leslie combines thoughtful research with creative problem-solving to make every step feel smooth and straightforward. Outside of real estate, Leslie enjoys swimming and painting—activities that inspire a fresh, creative outlook that often shows up in property marketing and design ideas.
